REPORT OF THE SCHOOL BOARD

FOR THE YEAR ENDING MARCH 1, 1893.

Citizens of Strafford:

In compliance with the laws of the state, we present you a report of the condition of the schools for the year ending March 1, 1893.

There were eighteen different teachers employed during the year, seventeen females and one male, nearly all of whom have had experience as teachers, and have been generally successful, so we have no fault to find.

In some instances, if the teacher could have had the co-operation of the parents, more benefit would have been received. The teachers have been conscientious and painstaking in their endeavor to promote the interest of the schools, and but for some "outside" pressure in certain schools they would have been very successful.

Discipline has been very good. But one instance of willful insubordination was reported, and, due correction having been administered, no action on the part of the school board was needed.

The most of the schoolhouses are in very good repair, but No. 12 and No. 15 need re-plastering badly. It was thought to repair them during the past year, but for sufficient reasons the work was deferred. We would recommend that No. 12 schoolhouse be sheathed instead of plastered, as it would be more durable, it having been plastered three times. Several other houses need small repairs, and it has been reported that No. 9 needs painting.

Schoolhouse lot No. 19 needs leveling and grading badly, as it is dangerous for small children to enter and leave the building. They cannot enter the door without getting on their hands and knees. It was supposed that the citizens of the district were to grade the lot, but nothing has been done towards it.

It is to be hoped that something will be done towards fixing the lot, as it is a disgrace to the district to let it remain as it is.

There have been twenty-four weeks of schooling, divided into three terms of eight weeks each, being an increase of one week over last year.

The attendance has been very irregular in some districts, in fact too much so. In some instances it was unavoidable on account of sickness, but in most instances there was no need of it, and parents should see that their children attend school regularly, and not allow them to be absent when they please, as we found to be the case in many instances.

Teachers should be very careful about granting "leave of absence" to the scholars without a written request from their parents. It is an injury to the school for the scholars to be irregular in their attendance, and we hope there will not be so much allowed during the next school year.

There has been no change of text books except, in some schools, to substitute Montgomery's Beginners in American History for Scudder's, it being better adapted to the purpose.

During the official year Dr. H. L. Ambler, senior member of the board, resigned, and, as he had not been present during the first half of the year, the remaining members had charge of the business till his resignation, when it was decided not to fill the vacancy, as there were no questions to decide upon that required a full board.

We would impress upon the parents the need of co-operation with the teachers in order to have successful schools. It matters not how earnest the teacher may work to advance the scholars, if the parents do not sympathize and work with them, their labor will be in vain. You should also encourage them by your presence in the school-room, not to discover something to find fault about, but to help them on their way, for a teacher has but a thankless task at best, and any suggestion would be gratefully received and acted upon.

In some of our schools there is not that unison between parents and teachers that ought to exist. No parent or guardian should encourage a scholar to disobey his teacher. All such things tend to diminish the teacher's authority, and, if one scholar is allowed to do as he pleases in school without rebuke, others will be encouraged, by the example, to disobey, and the efficiency of the school will be destroyed. Therefore, we earnestly entreat parents and guardians to stand by the teacher in all reasonable matters, and it will be better for the scholar in after years.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES W. WHITCHER, } School Board
FRANK G. FOSS, } of Strafford.
